iClass is platform of children stories that transforms any traditional school classroom into an interactive, exciting, competitive classroom.

The teacher will play a story to the student that can last from 5 to 15 minutes and then show 5 to 10 questions that summarize and emphasis the meanings of the story. The student in the class will answer the questions by using their on-the-desk tablets within certain amount of time.

The teacher in the class can then show the results of the voting between the students and ask the students to defend and debate their answers resulting in a healthy, exciting, and fun to learn meanings of life.

iClass platform has hundreds of stories provided by independent artists and story creators from all around the world. The stories are carefully monitored and approved by a panel of educational experts that gives the final green light to enroll the story in the platform.

iClass gives the teachers the possibility to run the stories that suits the age criteria of their students, iClass also provide the ability to rate the story or put it in their favorite bookshelf.

iClass is priced with pay-as-you-go, there are no need for monthly or yearly subscriptions, the school will pay only when the story is played in the classroom.
